

Station 6

Rock Sample 6

This dark rock is composed of small crystals. Note its density. This rock was once molten that cooled and became stone. It has several minerals in it, but they are too small to be easily identified.